SPEAKERS AND ENTERTAINERS

ETHAN ZOHN

Ethan Zohn, 2002 winner of the reality TV show "Survivor," is this year's opening session keynote speaker. He is a philanthropist, professional speaker and inspirational role model. With his prize money from "Survivor," Ethan cofounded Grassroot Soccer, a nonprofit organization that trains professional soccer players to teach African children about HIV/AIDS prevention. He was diagnosed with Hodgkin's Lymphoma in April 2009, and after months of being in remission, he recently learned that his cancer has returned. His personal battle with cancer helps him serve as national ambassador for Stand Up 2 Cancer and Lance Armstrong's LIVESTRONG Foundation. As a motivational speaker, Ethan addresses high school, college, corporate and professional sports audiences.
